LEGE

On behalf of the Class of 1995, the LOG would like to dedicate this book to Mr. Claude H. Croston, who has played an important part in Melrose High School since 1958, and is retiring at the end of this year with our class.

Mr. Croston was born and raised in Haverhill, Massachusetts. In 1952 he graduated from Haverhill High School, where he was a star in both track and football. He went on to Wake Forest University and continued his football career for the next four years. After serving in the Army, Mr. Croston attended Boston State College, where he completed his Masters Degree in Education. In 1958, he came to Melrose High School and began teaching both Social Studies and Psychology.

Mr. Croston's involvement went far beyond the classroom, however, as he coached football, tennis, and track. In September of '72, his hard work and dedication paid off when he was made assistant principal of MHS. He continued to add particular character to the school, and in 1975 he became principal.

To quote a colleague and former student, "Mr. Croston's genuine love for his kids and his fairness and loyalty to his students and teachers are what made him so popular as a teacher, coach, and principal. It didn't matter what the student had done, whether an innocent classroom prank in the '60's or a pulled-fire alarm in the '90's — if you were honest, he was there for you. Tough, but fair."

Mr. Croston has been married to his wife, Dolores, for thirty-five years, and he has five children: Patrick, Christina, Timothy, Sean, and Kara. These days, you can find him enjoying his free time, either on the golf course with his friends or in the garden with his wife.

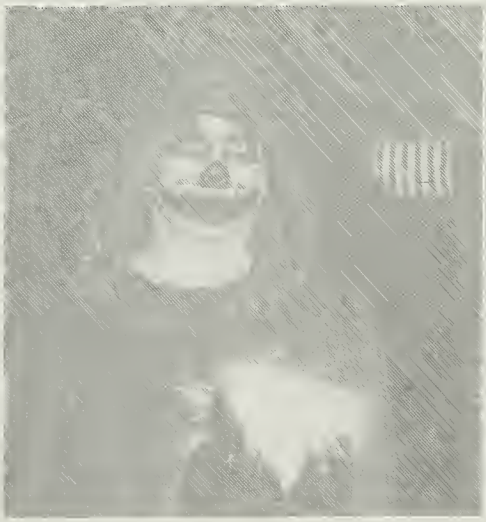
Throughout his years at Melrose High School, Mr. Croston has touched the hearts of all who know him. He is not only well-liked, but respected and admired by students, teachers, parents, and family. From all those in the Class of 1995 (his little chickens), Thank You Mr. Croston.

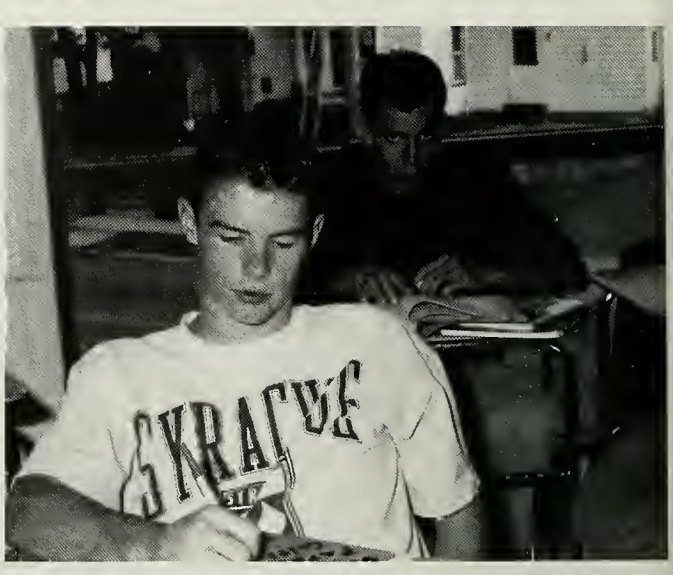
Now we all know that when we came to the high school as freshmen, our reputation preceded us, and that reputation was not at all a positive one. "Wait until you see the Class of '95!" they said. "Such trouble-makers; absolutely no discipline!" But here we are in our Senior Year — one of the strongest and most motivated classes in recent M.H.S. history.

From this, we have drawn the theme of our yearbook, which we feel best represents the true nature of the Class of 1995. Although we may be a little rough around the edges, both our talent and diversity shine through when one looks "Beneath the Surface."

Under the shell of our undeserved reputation as trouble-makers lies the new generation: spirited, sophisticated, and determined. We have proven our worth both athletically and academically. Wait until you see the Class of '95! We are both Varsity athletes and Honor Roll students, aspiring musicians and talented artists. Our class has produced both League All-Stars and National Merit Scholars, inspiring leaders and dedicated volunteers. Our students have always been deeply involved in both school and community: we were the first to raise the issue of condom availability, and the first to establish a new Teen Health Center. Yet these accomplishments represent only the beginning of a promising future.

At last, the Class of 1995 has been recognized for what it really is. Our reputation has changed; people have looked beneath the surface. We are strong, motivated, and ready — we have grown up, and we're moving on. But before we leave, we'd like to express our deepest gratitude to Mr. Croston, and to wish the best of luck to the new principal, Mr. Hayes. Thank you . . . and Good Night!





ON

Over the past four years we have collected many fond memories that will be cherished over a life time. This is our time to shine and to prove what we have accomplished over the past four years at MHS. We will always remember those most memorable experiences, whether they were with friends or family. Crazy parties or fun classes, these memories reflect on who we really are beneath the surface.

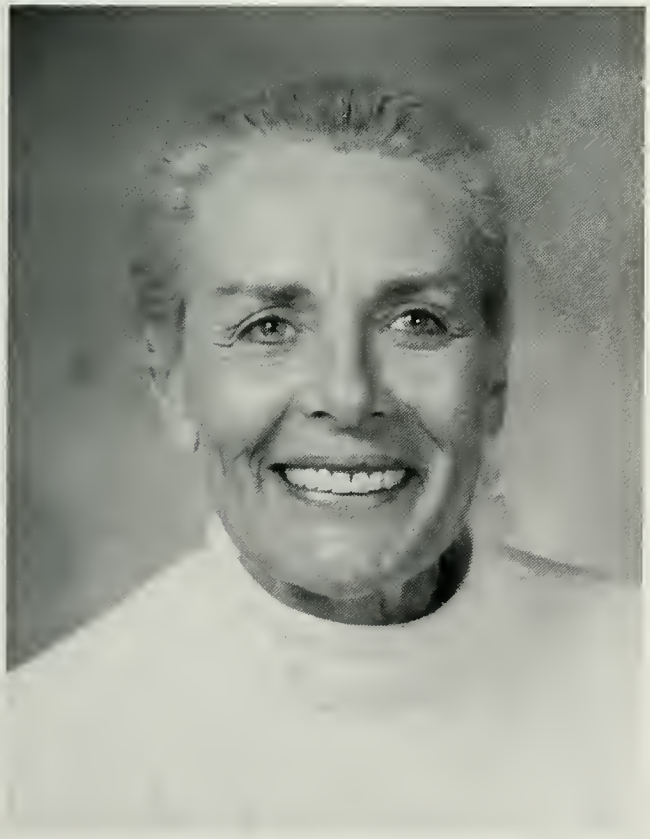
Seniors!

Throughout your years at MHS, you have experienced the challenge of striving for important goals. Having achieved a very important goal, it is time to take on new challenges. Whatever you choose, I encourage you to give your best and have fun, but not one without the other!

Thanks for the excellent example you have set for the classes to follow! Don't lose your spirit and remember that you will always be a part of the Red Raider family! Best wishes for much success and happiness!

D Hayes



After eighteen years of inspiring students both in and out of the classroom, Melrose High's Audrey Luongo will be retiring at the end of the '95 school year. To many, Mrs. Luongo was not only just a math teacher, but a sideline supporter of many Red Raider sports events as well. Mrs. Luongo's love of sports goes back to her youth, when she participated in swimming, basketball, and track. This love Luongo has provides a common ground between her and the students of Melrose High. Although she shares a closeness with her students, she is looking forward to retiring and becoming a grandmother. Mrs. Luongo will be greatly missed but will always have a special place in the hearts of Melrose students.

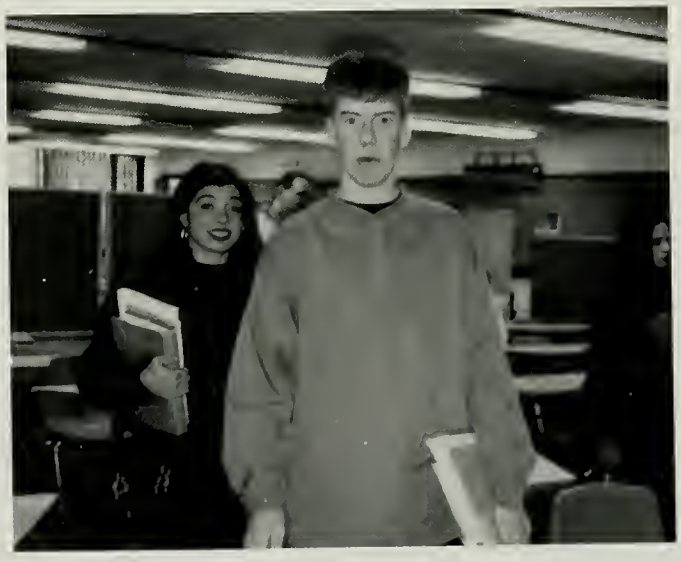
WITHIN



Outside of the classroom, there are many events that bring the students of Melrose High School closer together. Classmates gather for the semi-formals, proms, and the Winter Ball to continue the annual Student Life traditions. On the wacky side are the Halloween Dance and Field Day. It is at these events where the students bond and create memories that sink in beneath the surface and will stay with them forever.

SCENES

As we become so involved in our own efforts to succeed in high school, it is easy for us to overlook the efforts of the faculty who provided us with the support and guidance needed to help us do our best. The teachers and staff go above and beyond our expectations to provide the best education possible, which will be beneficial to us in our future endeavors. They arrive at school early to prepare for a full day of classes and stay long after the end of the school day, organizing clubs, writing recommendations, coaching teams, and giving students extra help with things they did not fully understand during class. Even after they leave the building, some teachers spend their time tutoring or attending courses to increase their knowledge in order to teach more effectively. The faculty of Melrose High is more than deserving of our appreciation, not only for the work they do during class, but for the work they also do . . . behind the scenes.

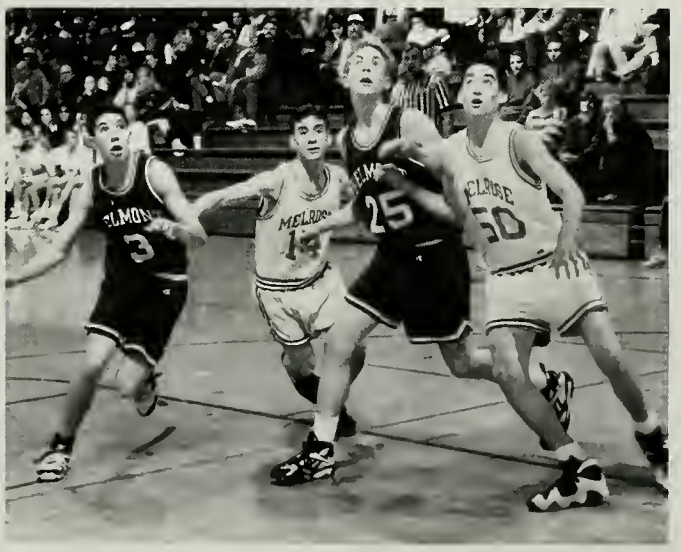
ABOVE THE COMPETITION



After the final bell of the day rings, many students rush home to escape the confines of school. But a select group of students can be seen practicing and playing on the fields of MHS. These are the athletes of Melrose High School; the students who reach within themselves to dedicate their extra time and energy to represent Melrose Athletics. And this dedication has given MHS and its athletes the ability to rise Above The Competition.

Talk About Togetherness

Captains Susan Thibeault ('94) and Becky Hale ('94).

"Does this guy ever shut up? wonders Wendy Schreiber as she and Susan MacLeod pretend to lis to Coach Porter. Both Wendy and Sue were All-Stars and Wendy will captain this year's team.

Hurdling her way through the competition, Lauren O'Malley looks confident in winning her event. While only a sophomore, Lauren was a big point-winner for the team this past season.

crucial race against Belmont, Tricia Cox ahead of her opponents and looks toward ry. Tricia will be looked upon by her team- s this season for senior leadership.

Leaping to another victory is Emily Ferrick. She was a major asset to the team and one of this year's Tri-Captains.

Although the record may not prove it, the Melrose Raiders had a very productive season, especially the field of record times and personal improvement. They had a determined team with a lot of potential.

All-Stars Sue MacLeod, Wendy Schreiber, and Co-Captain Becky Hale ('94) were extraordinary assets to the team. In the two-mile, Sue really proved her ability with a time of 11:58, and in the one-mile, Wendy ran a record time of 5:24. All of the seniors made major contributions and helped the team get started off on the right track.

The toughest loss of the season had to be the home meet against Belmont, when the team lost by only one half of a point. That was truly the highlight of the season. The most memorable event, on the other hand, might have been the pasta party at Becky's house! Then again, it will be hard to forget the time when Wendy threw a discus through a car windshield, or the time when Lauren O'Malley fell off the mats after doing the high jump. Although the season may not have been as successful as one might have hoped, it was certainly a memorable one!

The one word that best characterized the attitude of the Girl's Spring Track Team was perserverance. Although they finished with a record of 0-9, they always gave 100%.

"We work hard every year, and next year we will beat Reading."

Jeff Iudice

Ending the exhausting season with a record of 4-5, the up-and-coming Boys Track Team was very satisfied with the outcome of their efforts. The team was coached by the disciplinarian, Tim Morris, and assisted by Cliff Somerville. Along with the coaches, the team was led by tri-captains Mike Shay ('94), Greg Huntley ('94), and Dustin Reid ('94). The team worked hard in the pre-season and was determined to do their best.

The team's goal for the season, to beat the powerhouse Reading squad, was not accomplished. The Raiders took the Rockets all the way to the final relay and almost broke their twenty-two year winning streak. Out of all their victories, their hardest fought battle was beating Winchester. The Sachems were a strong team with a lot of depth, but they could not defeat the talented Red Raiders, who were bolstered by the performance of the team's pole vaulters.

Next year, the more experienced team will be led by co-captains Marc Young and Jim O'Malley. Their prospect for the upcoming season is having a good record with their young and talented team. The Red Raiders will look forward to being stronger in the weight events and distance competitions.

"This ball is here again?" thinks Johanna Tighe as she prepares to send it sailing over the net. Johanna played a great season in the number three single spot and will lead the 1995 squad as captain.

The Lady Raiders successfully fulfilled their goal of playing as a good team under their new coach, Julie Briggs. Captains Allyson Casey ('94) and Melissa Roselli ('94) led their team to a rewarding season.

There were many major contributors to the team as well as the captains. Tara Cargill, Johanna Tighe, Andrea Brown, and Suzie Crowley also helped to lead the team to many victories. Freshman Andrea MacNamara was an excellent player, and she shows extreme potential towards the years to come.

Laura Chiminello was a First Team Middlesex League All-Star and was number one in the League. She also made it to the Quarterfinals in the State as well as being a Herald All-Scholastic, and receiving the title of MVP as only a Freshman.

There were several hard fought victories such as the great match against Reading, and also the games against Lexington and Stoneham. Memorable events of the season include the van rides home, especially from Belmont, and the pool party at Melissa Roselli's house.

The season could be characterized as unique or even crazy, and the cooperative team members pulled together and ended the season with a 6-7 record.

Skill and coordination are two major factors necessary to succeed in tennis. Team coherence is also an essential factor which determines a "solid" tennis team and the Melrose boy's tennis team has this quality year after year.

The team's togetherness shined through after a tough loss to Belmont. Not set back by the loss, the Raiders pulled themselves together and defeated a potent Winchester team thanks to great playing by Captain Nick Alfano ('94) Brian Carroll, Jason Mitchell and Dan Casey. The team always had a good time wherever they were; whether at practice, a game or, what was called the highlight of the season according to Jason Mitchell, Coach Peter Lund's barbecue.

This year the team has a few upcoming prospects which should help the Raiders break into the top half of the Middlesex League. These prospects include Junior Joshua Kepnes whose hard work during the off-season should land him into one of the top seeds, Sophomore Matt Roselli, and Sophomore Dan Casey who looks like he has the potential to be one of the best tennis players to come from Melrose in a while.

This team has always been noted for its spirit, and soon enough they will be together again on the courts having a great time as usual.

The talented, yet inexperienced Melrose softball team, coached by Don MacLeod and assisted by Mike Crawford, had a tough act to follow, starting off the season in the wake of the 1993 team's great success. Leading the Red Raiders were Co-Captains Rene Federico ('94) and Amy Dolan.

While Melrose set out to have a winning season and make the state tournament, their goal proved unreachable, as competition in the Middlesex League is the toughest in the state. The team did, however, improve their record (6-14), and won a hard fought victory against the tough Winchester team. The Raiders held the Sachems down to one run, and then late in the fifth inning they began an incredible rally, scoring nine runs to secure the win. Their most memorable victory, on the other hand, was against Malden, beating them 19-2. This was a non-league game, but it increased the team's chances for making the state tournament.

Last year's All-Star was the returning novice Heidi Stevenson, receiving this award for the second time. She was used as a utility player in the shortstop position.

Next year's captains are Amy Dolan and Susan Downey. They are both looking forward to having a strong season with a more experienced team. They also expect to have a winning record and to qualify for the tournament.

Head Coach Dave Wilbur and the Melrose Varsity Baseball Team suffered a disappointing 1994 season. Anthony Sestito and Brian Fogarty led the team to a lackluster 7-13 record. Despite the dismal record, the Red Raiders were awarded three All-Stars. They were pitchers David Blanchard, Brian Fogarty and 1st baseman Anthony Sestito.

The team's season was summed up in one particular game against rival Wakefield. Melrose had the lead throughout most of the game, but in the last two innings Melrose "choked" and watched their lead and the game slip through their hands.

However, Melrose had some bright spots during the season. In Burlington the team had the lead early, lost it, but never gave up and came through with a big "W." Personal highlights throughout the year include a grand-slam by All-Star Tony Sestito ('94) and a no-hitter by All-Star Brian Fogarty ('94).

"The goal for the team this upcoming season is to improve on last year's record of 7-13," says Jon Troy who, along with Alex Serfes and Jeff Rzepka will help the Red Raiders fulfill this goal. Next year's tri captains, David Blanchard, Steven Healey and Mike Chaffee, will lead Melrose, hopefully, to the top half of the league.

The goal for the season was to pull together as a team and to attain personal best times. With rd work, combined with the leadership of Captain Sarah Sutherland, the girls' swim team cer- nly achieved what they had so eagerly pursued. The team ended the season with a 4-6 record.

Many other outstanding swimmers also helped to lead the team to success; among them, Mack- zie Silverio, Megan Sierak, Rachel Frederick, Erica Farrell, Julie Abare, and Allison Carey. Al- ough no awards or special recognition were given to anyone, Mackenzie Silverio would have been League All-Star for her third consecutive year if the requirements had not been changed.

The greatest win of the season was the meet against Woburn. Everyone knew that the match uld be close because of the strengths of both teams, but the Lady Raiders got the victory that ey so deserved. There were, however, several tough losses as well, especially those to Burlington d Billerica.

The season contained many memorable events for the swimmers, such as the bus ride to Lexing- n and the pasta parties (especially those attended by Andrea McNamara). The strong under- assman contingent should lead next year's team to another productive season.

The 1994 season was yet another successful season for the Melrose Red Raiders golf team. Th Red Raiders finished their season with an impressive 7-2 record which was good enough for thir place in the extremely competitive Middlesex League. This magnificent record also landed them spot in the State Golf Tourney.

Led by Captain Steven Healey and Senior Tim Talbot, who played most of the season at th number one position, the squad demolished their opponents in seven wins, outscoring them 66-1 After a disappointing loss to Winchester, the Red Raiders regained control, closing out the seaso with three consecutive wins.

The team worked very well together and everyone did their part, especially the brother-duo Bill and James Donohue, as well as long-time Veterans Brian Carroll and Josh Riley.

Giving the Spartans a run for their money, Melissa Sherman takes the lead. As a captain, Melissa proved to be not only a strong leader, but a strong competitor as well.

With three powerful captains and a team with strong ambitions, the Melrose Cross Country team came very close to accomplishing their goal of winning half of their meets. Captains Tricia Cox, Susan MacLeod, and Melissa Sherman strongly led their team to a 4-5 record with the help of Coach Kevin Allison and key runners Pam Costello, Tracy Crowley, and Senior Amanda Crowley, who, in her first year of Cross-Country, helped the team tremendously.

Though the team started the season with a tough loss to Belmont, their constant improvement really showed. One of the greatest wins of the season came at the meet against Winchester, when Amanda Crowley out-sprinted a rival for the victory. Their determination certainly paid off for the final meet of the season, when the Lady Raiders took the victory at their home meet against Wakefield.

Next year will be a season of rebuilding, as the team will be losing a number of valuable seniors. However, the strong underclassmen will surely prove themselves through another great season. Excellent freshman, Margaret McKinley, will be a great help in this process.

There is no one in sight and hopefully Kevin Quinn is ahead of the rest. As one of the captains of the team, Kevin showed great leadership.

"Be the man!"

Mike Redman

The team finished the season well with a 4-5 record. They were led by Senior Captains Jim O'Malley, David Appleyard and Kevin Quinn. Junior Mike Coughlin proved to be a key new addition. O'Malley and Coughlin provided a solid 1-2 combination, with Senior Mike Gilbert, Sophomore Conor MacGuire, and Freshman George Dakin completing the team's top five. In addition, Jim O'Malley earned All-Star honors for the second year in a row.

For ten straight years Melrose had always come up a little bit short against an extremely tough Lexington team. However, with the 1994 season came the end of this troubling record, for the Raiders defeated pesky Lexington thanks to brilliant running from everyone on the team. With the return of Coughlin, MacGuire and Dakin, as well as Tom Walsh, Mike Redmond and Chris Sinclair, the '95 team should prove to be strong contenders in the Middlesex League, and, with luck, will perhaps once again beat Lexington.

Ready to make another pass, Katie Sugrue has her game completely under control. Katie has made an excellent captain this year, and has perfected her position as forward.

Both on and off the field, spirit dominated over the Lady Raiders this season. Whether it was taking time out of the Pep Rally to do the Bugaloo or screaming the cheers on the bus using Wendy Schreiber's megaphone, they always seized the opportunity to express the pride they had in their team. A lot of hard work was put into the season, but fun was still had by all.

The season would never have been what it was without the strong leadership of the Captains: Eastern MA All-Star, Wendy Schreiber, Katie Sugrue, and League All-Star, Jill Thibeault. Other major contributors included Cara Hubbard, Gia Rosenberg, and freshman goalie, Beth Messenger. Beth became a major asset to the team and proved what an incredible player she is.

Every game was fought hard by the Lady Raiders. Their efforts especially paid off at the Burlington game when the team won 2-1. The Raiders showed their stuff again later in the season when they came back to tie Burlington 3-3.

Next year's team will be a very strong, determined group, despite the loss of eight valuable seniors. The prospects for this future team are still very positive and are ready for another spirited season.

This team's record did not in any way represent the skills that they possessed or how hard they worked. The team was full of talented players who gave their all in the highly competitive Middlesex League. The season was characterized as a learning experience and each player made constant improvement.

Captains Steve Herlihy, Tony Scibilia, and Peter Veneziano led their team well and were major contributors to the Raiders. Other great assets to the team included Jim Dooher, Matt Laspina, Eric Holmes, and Shane Shaffer. In addition to being a League All-Star, Captain Tony Scibilia was named MVP. Rich Rossi was the recipient of the Most Improved Player Award, and Jim Dooher earned himself the Coach's Award. The highly honorable J. Michael Hughes Award was given to Steve Herlihy.

The toughest contest for the team this season was the match against Reading. It was extremely close throughout the entire game, but Reading came away with the win. The highlight of the season had to be the home night game against Watertown which ended in a tie.

Next season has much better prospects, although the loss of eight valuable seniors will be hard to overcome. Luckily, there will be a strong underclassman contingent.

After a grueling season in a tough league, the Melrose Red Raiders came up with a record of 6-7-5. The field hockey team was coached by Jan Johnston and assisted by Robin Savage for the first year. Leading the team were the determined, and enthusiastic co-captains Heidi Stevenson and Amy Dolan.

Although the team missed qualifying for the state tournament by a mere point, they were satisfied with their teamwork, determination and effort throughout the season. The Raiders succeeded in beating their rival, Wakefield, both times they went head-to-head. Both of those hard fought wins were shut-outs with a score of 2-0 each time. On both occasions the Melrose defense shined with perfection, while the offense was able to score with ease.

Out of the whole season, Melrose's biggest improvement was holding Watertown down to only 3 goals, compared to 8 when they first played them. The Raiders held Watertown with no score all the way to the half. It had to be the closest and most intense game of the season.

The All-Stars chosen to represent Melrose were Heidi Stevenson and Jessica Herrington. They were both model team players and will be missed next year.

The team started off the season on a high note by beating their non-league rival, Malden, 8-6. Th level of play continued throughout most of the year. The Red Raiders won their next two gam against Belmont and Burlington. However, twelfth ranked powerhouse Woburn awaited them. N many people gave Melrose a chance to win this game, but sure enough, they shut out the "mighty Woburn team 10-0. The following week, Melrose suffered a huge let down, for they lost a game Reading they could have easily won. Melrose bounced back nicely from the defeat and won thr games in a row against Stoneham, Winchester, and Lexington, matching their longest winning strea of the year. Now all Melrose had to do was win one of their two remaining games. On a very cold Fr day night, a far superior Melrose team was stunned by the Watertown Red Raiders. Fortunately, Me rose still had one chance left. But on Thanksgiving Day, Wakefield's ambition to prevent Melro from reaching the Super Bowl proved far greater than Melrose's Super Bowl dreams.

Although the season ended with a feeling of emptiness for the Red Raiders, this team must be cre ited with what Senior Captain Adam Federico calls a "never give up" attitude.

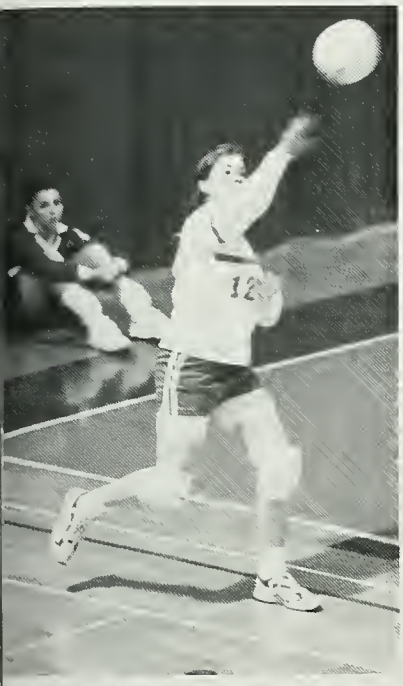
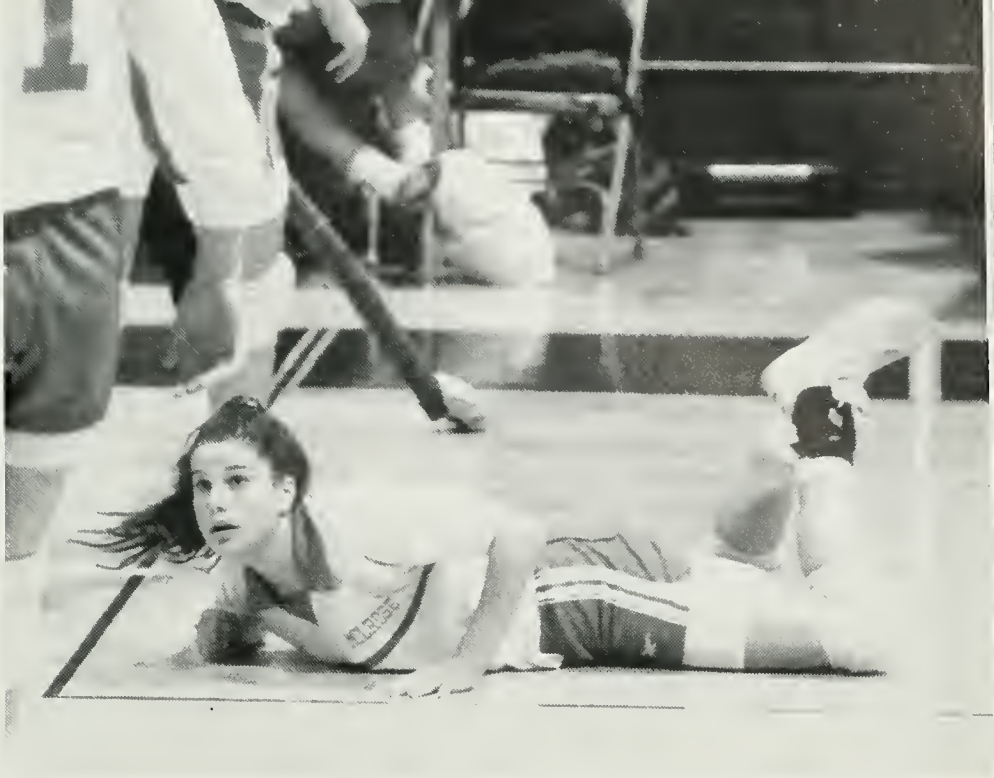
During one of the time-outs, D1 gives her team some valuable words of wisdom.



ıe expression on her face, you can tell that McCarthy used all of her power to send erve over the net. In a crucial game against ham, "laid-back" Katie should her first of nervousness.



Trying to keep herself concussion-free, Christina Cirrone lifts her head off the floor to follow the ball she has just saved. As the team's setter, Christina led the team by controlling the offense.

Coached by Donna Marinelli and assisted by Peter Marinelli, the Melrose Volleyball team finished a very inconsistent season with a 6-11 record. Despite their record, every game for the Raiders was a tough battle that ended up with either cries of joy or tears of defeat.

Determined to make their record stronger, the Red Raiders dominated their last two games, crushing Everett 2-0 and stunning Hamilton Wenham 2-1. The victory over Hamilton Wenham was by far the biggest and best win of the season. Melrose kept up with the Generals through the first two games, and then pulled ahead in the third to clinch the match with their heads-up, intense playing.

Tri-Captains Lindsay Randall, Christina Cirrone, and Caroline Cassavoy faced a tough season, trying to match last year's outstanding record of 15-3. Unfortunately, their hopes of making the state tournament for the third year in a row proved impossible. The Raiders did, however, display great individual performance, producing All-Stars Cassavoy and Cirrone. Christina also made the All-League Team.

Next year's team promises great potential, and although the 1995 Raiders will miss their senior dominance, they will undoubtedly succeed with the spirit and drive of such young talent.

"Who said we're not gonna win tonight?"

Therfena Green

Whatever the conditions were the Melrose football cheerleaders would always be there with winning smiles on their faces. They were led by Captain Christine Catanzaro and Captain Molly Linnehan throughout the entire season for the second year in a row. The squad practiced their cheers and dances to perfection, and with such dedication, they went on to win the Most Spirited Award.

Showing off their spirit, the team would strive to fire up the massive crowds and were an inspiration to the football team throughout tough games. They helped the players reach an outstanding record of 7-3, which led them to reach the rank of #2 in the entire Middlesex League.

Favorite memories include:
- "Bouncing 4's"
- "If cheerleading were any easier, it would be called football.!"
- "Christine, why is your hair like that?"

The Melrose soccer cheerleading squad was led by Captain Nicole Amirault, Captain Marie Morello and Coach Skaare. As a team they cheered and put mighty spirit into the crowd. They were seen and heard at every game and stuck behind the soccer team during good times and bad. With smiles always on their faces they helped encourage the players to perform their very best.

Planning his attack, Jeff Iudice anxiously await the moves from his Belmont opponent. Jeff le the team in the 160 pound category.

"We have a lot of young talent and it looks like we have a bright future."

Nathan Lusas

The young and inexperienced Melrose wrestlers were led by Captain Jeff Iudice, Coach Frank Smith, and Assistant Coach Jon Puleo. Their record was 1-5-1 in the brutal Middlesex League and 3-6-1 overall. This record is very misleading because the team was very talented as a whole.

Throughout the Middlesex League, Melrose has very strong and demanding competition to face. The Red Raiders' rival in the league was Wakefield. After a tough and hard fought match against them, the Raiders looked as if they were in the lead by one. Anticipating a well-deserved win, Melrose unfortunately fell short and only came away with a tie. The team was very disappointed that they did not come out on top, but was also relieved that they were not defeated by their long term rivals.

With only two seniors on the team, Anthony Samuels and Shannon Blair, Melrose consisted of mostly inexperienced underclassmen. The team was very talented, however, and had strong competitors in every weight category. Next year, the Red Raiders will be more experienced and determined to dominate the league.

Showing off her pride and poise is Leigha Zedros. Leigha is well known for her ability in all of the events, which she constantly displays.

n Lackett smiles shyly as she lets her finger-ils dry. Jen helped the team a lot this season, ›ecially on the vault.

"Look Mom, I can fly!" thinks Jen Basteri. Jen led the team very well this season as only a Junior and made constant self-improvement.

Though it may not be proven by their record, the Lady Raiders, under a new coach and captain, had a very productive season. Coach Earl McCallister and Captain Jen Basteri both did excellent jobs leading such a talented group of gymnasts. However, they could not have done it alone. Juniors Rachel Downey, Sara Strangi, Leigha Zedros, and the rest of the Lady Raiders each contributed to their season.

Their season ended in a 1:4 record. The win was against their rivals, the Stoneham Spartans, who they had not defeated in two years. Each of the athletes' performances at that meet truly paid off in representing the team's talent. This win to Stoneham proved to be the highlight of their season.

The prospects for next year's team look good. They anticipate a great season, as they will gain several valuable freshmen. As for this season, the Ladies would like to remember it as "a satchel of fun right from the get-go."

Demonstrating his perfect form is Chris Kroon. Chris led the team well this season and also established great times for himself, like his impressive 5:30 in the 500 freestyle.

After several years on the Swim Team, Mike Burke learned to master the art of putting on goggles. Mik one of the powerful swimmers who will be looked u to help the team enormously next year.

"We were a young team who had many surprises, but we surpassed our expectations."

Henry Turner

Placing third in the League, the Boys Swim Team ended their season with a strong 4:3 record. The team was led by outstanding captains, Chris Kroon and Jason Shamberger, and contained many other powerhouses such as Henry Turner, Mark Goodhue, Keith Rowe, and extraordinary freshmen, Dan Kourtz and Andrew Schweiz.

The meet against Malden Catholic was definitely the most hard fought victory. It came down to the final relay, where the Raiders pulled ahead for the win. However, there were a couple of tough losses including the loss to Reading and to Lexington.

The swim team had only one home meet, which turned out to be the highlight of the season. The overwhelming MHS turnout at this important meet showed just how much pride the students have in this team. Jason Helein's placing second in the 100 backstroke was the most memorable event of the season, and it really proved Jason's talent. The many trips to Purity to obtain the supplies for the many toilet paperings also will not easily be forgotten.

Although there will be a loss of valuable seniors, the team is preparing for an even stronger season next year. Mike Burke, Joe Elia, and upcoming Freshman Andrew Rawson will be great helps in this process.

Bizarre hats, Benson's false starts, 90210 parties at Gilbert's, laps in the Middle School inferno, "Son of a Preacher Man," lunatic bus drivers, and tattoos are just some of the memories that this year's Winter Track team took with them. Once again they bundled up and braved the cold in their hottest season yet. Highlights include the Girls Team's first win ever and the Boys Team's best record in four years.

Reflecting this milestone for the Girls team were outstanding performances by Seniors Susan MacLeod, Wendy Schreiher, Heather Goodwin, and Emily Ferrick. Many of these individuals consistently placed first in their events, and the relay team had many victories. Wendy and Sue, along with Maura Pelham and Melissa Cunningham, went on to compete in the State Meet.

The Boys team also had many great individual performances by Seniors Jim O'Malley, Kevin Mason, Dave Appleyard, and Anthony Riccardi. Some highlights of their season were beating Belmont in the relay and sweeping Burlington in the hurdles. Jim O'Malley, Kevin Mason, and Damon Isles went on to compete in the State Meet.

The Winter Track team owed much of its success to its coaches, Mr. Porter and "The Irish Stride of Pride" Sinead Delahunty. Through their dedication to the program, they pushed this team to become the best and brightest Winter Track Team that Melrose High School has ever had.

Despite a disappointing 1993-94 season, the Melrose Hockey Team was optimistic about making the Middlesex Tournament mainly because of returning All-Stars David Blanchard and David Ciulla. However, Melrose's hard work and determination proved fruitless and once again they failed to qualify for the tournament.

The team was led in scoring by Seniors Andrew LaFauci and Matt Holman. The top defensive player for the second straight year was David Blanchard. Captain Peter Mackinnon was a great team leader, inspiring all of his teammates before and after the game no matter whether they won or lost.

A lot of credit should be given to this Melrose team especially after Coach Rolli's grueling schedule of drills, exercises, and scrimmages, all of which put the team in great shape.

The Red Raiders' most impressive win of the season was a game played in Stoneham Arena against Lexington. The formidable team was baffled by outstanding team play from the Red Raiders. Lexington left the game in a state of disarray and as they skated off the ice the scoreboard read, Melrose 7, Lexington 2. On the other hand, Melrose's most disappointing loss of the season came against Stoneham. Melrose lost the game 6-5 with only 20 seconds remaining.

Leaping far above her Belmont opponent, Kerri Jenkins looks like a relative of Michael Jordan. Kerri was a tremendous contributor to the Lady Raiders team, playing as center.

'm open, I'm open!" exclaims sophomore Lau- ı Doherty. Lauren has been a major part of the ım with her great shooting ability and tena- ıus defense.

Using her impressive left-hand skills, Gina Luciano blows by her pesty Belmont defender. Gina was counted on this year for her great ball handling and will be missed immensely next year.

The Melrose Girl's Basketball Team was led by Tri-Captains Kerri Jenkins, Lindsay Randall, and Gina Luciano. The young team was guided by Head Coach Matt Gianatassio and Assistant Coaches Julia Damon and newcomer Marc Pedi.

With only five returning Varsity players, of whom four were seniors, the Lady Raiders prospects were not so good. The team was young with minimal expectations, and had not played much together before the season had started. The inexperienced team worked hard to pull themselves together for their first game.

In every game, Melrose played with heart and soul, not to mention aggressiveness and determination. Each game was close, but at the buzzer it seemed the odds were always against Melrose. Falling short of making the state tournament, the Melrose Red Raiders still play with their heads up and hope to improve their record.

Once again the Melrose Boy's Varsity Basketball Team had a successful 1994-95 season behind disciplined coaching from Nick Papas, placing them in the Middlesex League Tournament for the 13th year in a row. Co-Captain Jeff Curran who was coming off a very impressive Junior season, had an even better Senior season, leading the team in scoring, rebounding, and blocked shots. Whenever Jeff received the ball down low, he would make his defenders look pathetic; weaving in and around them and then banking a shot off the glass-a shot that only he could have made. But winning takes strong defensive play as well. Marc Young, who was also a captain, played relentless defense throughout the year thanks to his unbelievably quick feet and hands. Young's agility is the reason why he led the team in steals for the second year in a row. Coach Nick Papas had to have been pleased with the play of his first year Junior starters, Zack Brown and Alton Powell. Another important aspect which determines a strong team is the play of the bench. Seniors Adam Federico, Mike Chaffee, and Jim Bakeman provided strong bench support all year. Perhaps the most important thing which made the team so successful was the play of the "Green Team."

Captain Jill Hitchman

This season's Hockey Cheerleading squad was one of the best yet. The team was led by both Captain Jill Hitchman and Coach Skaare. The girls were always supportive of the boys, even when things were not going well. Each cheerleader wore a shirt that belonged to one of the boys on the team, proving that they indeed had a lot of spirit. As always, the players greatly appreciated the girls' support and without it, the team may not have made it. Many thanks to Mrs. Skaare, and good luck to all the seniors.

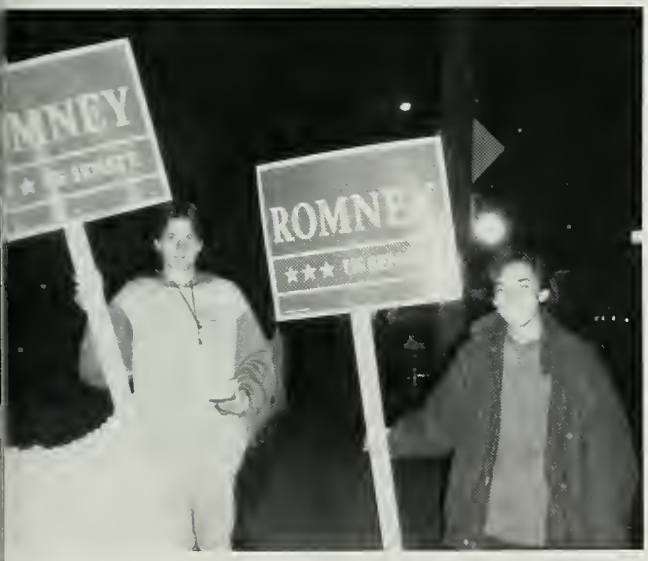
From the recycling program of the Environmental Club to the celestial sounds of the orchestra, Melrose High School's diverse clubs and organizations allow students to get involved with school and community. On any given day after classes, one can find the Student Government planning the next event, the Drama Club rehearsing for their next performance, or S.A.D.D. fighting the battle against drunk driving. The clubs and organizations of Melrose High are a key element in the development of students' lives.



Senior Student Government

The Senior Student Government has the responsibility of organizing senior events such as the Halloween Dance, Winterball, and the Prom. It holds fundraisers to help defray the costs of the activities, and it participates in the Bloodmobile, reading to elementary school children, and the permanent scholarship fund. The senior government helps make M.H.S. run smoothly.

The German American Partnership Program (GAPP) is a foreign exchange program between the students of Melrose High School and the students of Gymnasium Oberalster in Hamburg, Germany. In April of 1994, twenty GAPP'ers, accompanied by the unforgettable Dr. Dragonas, left Boston on a fine spring evening, bound for a one month stay in Deutschland.

While experiencing German culture first-hand, the students attended school, went on field trips, and perfected the language(!). Many a night was spent studying foreign social behavior in the educational Mecccas of the Pflaumenbaum and the Dabkrug (and let's not forget the AEZ mall, where the Amis enjoyed bootleg music stor German fashion, and of cou Spaghetti Ice Cream).

Although many students found hard to get over the excitement the VW factory and the bean wa house, most everyone still fou time to enjoy a peaceful bike ri in the Alstertal or a quiet nap the GOA lawn. The Student Activities Financial Board is a unique organization which empowers its members with the authority to allocate thousands of dollars in funds. This program has been self-sufficient since 1974 and helps support the numerous extracurricular activities at M.H.S. The board meets in the beginning of the school year to give seed money to each club. It also "loans" clubs money for initial expenses, with the clubs profits eventually returning to the fund.

Project Bread is one of the largest organizations in the school. They help supply meals to homeless shelters and help provide food pantries with food during the holidays. Under the supervision of the club advisor, Mrs. Katz, this club runs the Holiday Raffle, Candy Cane Sale, and a Bake Sale. There are also committees that are in charge of decorating the halls and windows of the Resource Center with posters. Project Bread's main goal throughout the year is to make a difference in the lives of people who are less fortunate during holidays.

DRAMA CLUB

The Melrose High School Drama Club works hard each year to present shows for the school and community. This year's talented ensemble of actors and technical crew put together three delightful performances—David and Lisa, The Grass Harp, and the annual "spring show," featuring a variety of skits and monologues.

In addition to presenting their work for the community of Melrose, the drama club competed with other high schools at the annual festival sponsored by the Massachusetts High School Drama Guild with their production of The Grass Harp by Truman Capote. The M.H.S. Drama Club has consistently done well at these competitions, and has returned home with awards in both acting and set design.

The Community Service Club was founded by two members of this year's senior class, and they began by trying to give something back to both the school and local communities. The Club has completed many worthwhile activities. These include visiting local nursing homes to spend time with patients, volunteering at the YMCA's after school program and painting the Green St. Geriatric Center. This Club is off to a great start and hopes to be able to add even more activities to those it already has.

The National Honor Society, with the aid of its advisor, Mr. Melvin, tries to give back to M.H.S. by striving toward the ideals of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. The N.H.S. works in conjunction with Project Bread at Christmastime and members offer their time and knowledge as tutors year-round to fulfill the service requirements. This year, the active members of the N.H.S. number fifty-eight, which is just one indication of the outstanding nature of the Class of 1995.

The induction ceremony held in the spring is the highlight of the year. Old members pass on the ideals of the N.H.S. to new members during a candlelight service.

The Multicultural Club was established to promote differences and to raise awareness of different cultures in our high school and in the community of Melrose. It sets up a variety of activities, which include guest speakers and movies. This year, a World of Difference Day is planned which tries to involve the entire community.

RISING

Underclassmen always look up to the seniors and cannot wait to accept their place someday. They patiently await their turn to rise above the surface and fulfill their dreams of graduating. On their journey to graduation day, underclassmen have not only the opportunity to participate in various activities including clubs, sports, and dances, but also the chance to lead their own social life. Underclassmen mature and develop into adults while exploring the pleasures of being young. Eventually the day will come when they are seniors and can rise above the surface.

"He's the man," exclaims Damon Isles pointing to Alton Powell at the Semi.

After practice Jennifer Curley and M
Agnes can not wait for a picture in t girls' locker room.

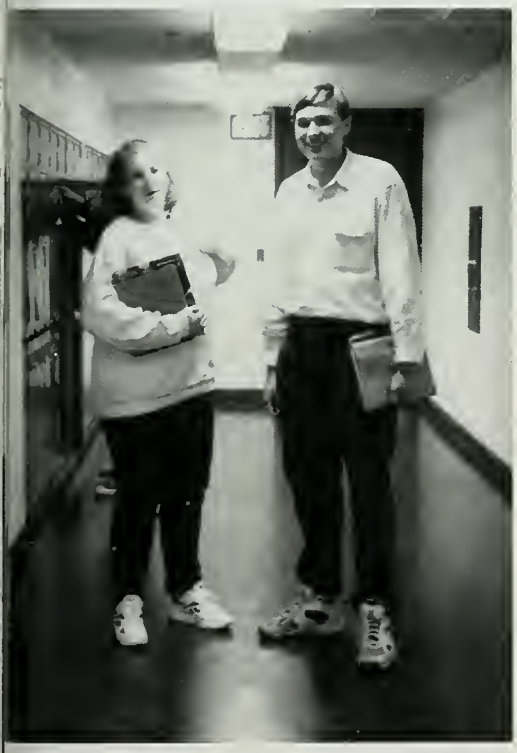
Forever friends are Samantha Scott and Diane Elgart.

Robyn Hand is ready for another day at school.



Danielle Edwards and David Smallis smile in relief that it is finally the weekend.

Jessica Bixby and Darren Kileen do not know whether or not to be thankful that this is their last picture before the Semi.

Amanda Patterson, Melissa Elhers, and Kerry Butler glance towards the dance floor in excitement as the night of their Sophomore Semi is about to begin.

Lisa Tulipani and Amanda O'Loughlin show their enthusiasm for field day as Beth Stiller checks for flies in her slush.

Jason Hicks is caught in the act of studying.

Relaxing at Field Day are Beth Stiller and Kathy Prince.

Quick to exit school are Anna Mackie and Danielle McNally.

"I'm superman and I'm here to save the day," exclaims Stacy Evans.

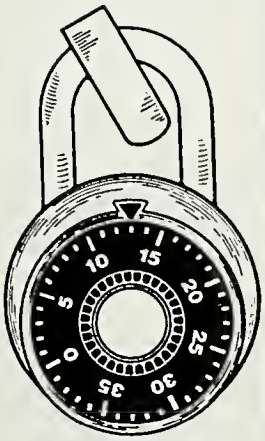
"No one told me they take your picture in the hallways at high school," exclaims Gia Rosenberg.



"Hold on tight and dance all night," are the mottos of Julie-Anne Dittmer and Andrew Summers at the Sophomore Semi.

Mary Kate Mastrangelo tests Jason Helein to see if he really is the dancer everyone says he is.

Beneath the Surface of photographs and profiles lies the Business section of LOG '95. The business and student ads established a strong base for the '95 yearbook staff to build on. From this base a yearbook filled with memories was produced and it will be treasured by all who own it. The Business Staff would like to thank all the seniors who cooperated in posing for their ad pictures. In addition, the local merchants should be commended for their charity in the purchase of business ads. Thus, because of the tremendous support of both students and businesses, LOG '95 is not Behind the Buck.

JAMNESTY II

Jamnesty is a concert in which interested musicians from M.H.S. come together to play for the student body. The concert is sponsored by Amnesty International and all money raised is donated to the organization. Mike Taggart and Dougie were in charge of this year's Jamnesty concert, with the help of Laura Shimberg in ticket sales. The name of the Jamnesty band was Beth's Cookies, and was composed of individual members from such bands as Cola, Frankish, and Webster's Pudding. The talented musicians involved in Jamnesty II were: Mike Taggart, Brendan Kenty, Dougie, Shaun Morphew, John Beck, Beth Cerasuolo, Sasha Veneziano, Jim Shanahan, Joe Elia, John Healey, Pat Heflar, Greg Ferreira, Shawn Gillis, Jeff Gordon, Bill Ricciardelli, Dave Hackett, Paul Butler, James Dooher, Sam Calef and Brendan Ahern. The special guests at the concert included Gary Taggart and Nathan Sullivan. Dave Appleyard, Patrick Burke, and Matt Laspina also helped out with photography and video. The crowd couldn't get enough of the great music and the band performed such songs as: "Stop" by Jane's Addiction, "Release" by Pearl Jam, "People Are Strange Not to Touch the Earth" by The Doors, "In the Meantime" by Helmet, and "When I Come Around" by Green Day. The concert was a real success and we wish the best of luck to all the musicians in the upcoming future.

Hard core in the flesh, with "In the Meantime."

Sammy, B.O.A., and Jim D. fight for their right to party.

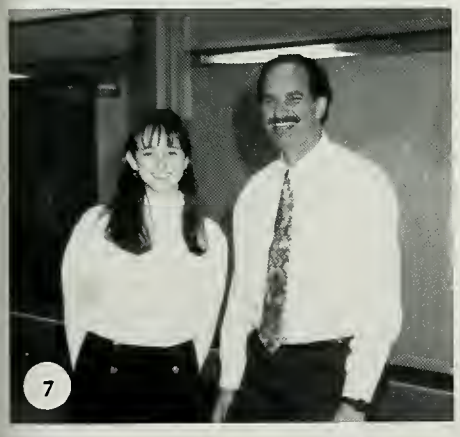
The Jamnesty band reunites for one last time.

Brendan gets physical.

Brendan Kenty and Joe Elia back up John Beck as he does his best Bill Joe impersonation.



1. Taking a swing at yearbook are Nick and Joey DiSanto. 2. Being on top is no problem for computer and copy editors Jennie Connery and Chris Molina, with the help of their staff Mike Iapini, Liz Larcano, and JoAnna Dittmer. 3. Obeying the orders of Chiefs Cargill and Dolan are the poor little red raider indians Johanna Tighe, Mary Kate Mastrangelo, and Lisa Tulipani. 5. Alexis Vagianos, Wendy Schreiber, Becky Lindley, Adam Federico, and Karima Khawaja form a pyramid of business expertise. 6. Just chillin' is the student life editor Stephanie Milano with her staff Jodi Dakin and Emily Chin. 8. Laying it all on the line is sports editor Christina Cirrone with her staff Liz Beshong, Gabe Gillis, and Beth Stiller. 7. Katie Bleiler and Mr. DiSanto smile in relief of finishing a fun but hectic year. 4. 1995 Log Editors

Iraqi leader Saddam Hussein orders his troops to the border of oil-rich Kuwait. The U.S. sends 350 warplanes to the area to support the Kuwaiti forces. By October 11, Hussein orders the withdrawal of most of his forces.

Russian President Boris Yeltsin calls out his poorly trained military to subdue a rebellion in Chechnya, a southern republic the size of Connecticut. Critics accuse Yeltsin of resorting to totalitarian methods of the old communist Soviet regime to keep the shaky Russian Federation unified.

Europe's worst flood in this century kills at least 30 people across Europe. Inland floods caused by melting Alpine snow and relentless rains hit Belgium, France, Germany, and the Netherlands, whose famous dike system begins to crumble late in January 1995 in the face of rampaging rivers. Dutch authorities evacuate 250,000 people from the lowlands.

Camilla Parker Bowles, allegedly Prince Charles' mistress, announces her divorce from her husband, Andrew Parker Bowles. Princess Diana is said to be negotiating a divorce from Charles, who will be free to remarry without giving up the throne—unless unhappy subjects force a referendum on the monarchy.

More than 900 passengers die, 140 are rescued when the Estonia, a 15,500-ton Baltic ferry sinks off the coast of Finland in a violent nighttime storm. The storm's 30-foot waves swamp the ship which lists and sinks in a matter of minutes.

In the wake of the 1994 Los Angeles earthquake and the southern California wildfires of 1993, California experiences more natural disasters in January 1995 when rainstorms cause flooding that kills 11 people and leaves 3,000 others homeless. Flooding is so high in Santa Barbara, fun-seeking teenagers dive off a freeway overpass into 15 feet of water. President Clinton declares 34 counties federal disaster areas.

In 1994, the U.S. registers a one-year population growth of 2.7 million. One-third of the increase is due to immigration, the largest such influx since 1914.

Author and humanities professor, Ralph Ellison, dies at age 80. His 1952 novel, Invisible Man, has been called the most powerful novel written about alienation, identity, and racism in America.

A huge increase in killings by 14- to 24-year-olds raises the nation's homicide rate, white violence blamed on preteens rocks communities nationwide. A boy, 13, is sentenced to life for strangling a four-year-old. In Chicago, an 11-year-old boy kills a 14-year-old girl and is then executed by his own gang. In Washington state a pair of 12-year-olds shoot a migrant worker.

The death of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis in May 1994 marks the end of an era, a time when America was prosperous, fighting for civil rights, and heading for the moon. The former first lady is buried next to her husband, President John F. Kennedy, in Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, D.C.

A rare white buffalo named Miracle draws crowds to the humble Wisconsin farm where it was born August 20. Native Americans believe the calf is the fulfillment of a Lakota Sioux prophecy. Five hundred years ago, White Buffalo Woman told her people that she would return as a white calf to usher in a new age of harmony between all races of mankind.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration blasts the tobacco company executives at a congressional hearing in March 1994 for denying that nicotine, a drug found in cigarette smoke, is addictive. Tobacco industry workers fear losing their jobs if the FDA succeeds in classifying and restricting cigarettes as a drug.
